POLO GROUNDS, Oct. 24.—Columbia's sturdy gridiron warriors tore and ripped and plunged their way to a glorious victory this afternoon on the white-barred battle-field through the ranks of the University of Pennsylvania's much vaunted line of pigskin knights.

Ten thousand football-mad followers of the Blue and White and the Red and Blue saw the struggle for supremacy, and 10,000 throats yelled and cheered the mighty fighters of the college teams on to deeds of valor

QUAKERS WERE THE FAVORITES.

The Quakers went to the post hot favorites at odds of 2 to 1, and there was very little money to back the Gotham lads in sight.

The most sensational features of the game was the wonderful sprinting of the Columbia heroes. Time and time again they tore their way through the ranks of the Slowville warriors for sprints that carried the ball to the Quakers' goal lines.

The day for the game was fine and dandy from a player's point of view. but from a spectator's it was bad. Blue noses and red cheeks predominated. But the crowd forgot its discomforts when the struggle was on. Some kent Russia Agreeing to Czar's their blood in circulation by vigorous cheering and others kept themselves
